—The residence of Marion Combs, of Bigelow received a shock of lightning on the 7th. It tore out the stove pipe and shocked the members of the family who were near by.

—We would suggest to our City Dads that it would be a good scheme to place a fine wire screen over the top of the stand-pipe, and thus keep the bugs and insects out of the water.

—M. F. Allen, of the Kimsey Creek neighborhood, is figuring on building a barn, and has Jerry and Web Kelley employed to do the work, but as his wife has just presented him with a bouncing boy, he does not know whether he wants the barn or not, as they have four boys and five girls.

—During the absence of T. C. Dungan at the Judicial convention in session at Joplin, this week, his wife and daughter, Miss Edith, renovated, dusted and in many ways improved the appearance of his office, and Frank Freeman repapered and decorated the same until he hardly knew the place when he came back. Dug now has one of the most up-to-date law offices in the state.

—Rev. L. Hedden and wife, of Chambers, Neb., have returned to their home after a pleasant visit with relatives in this county. Squire Lacey, of near Maitland, is Mrs. Hedden's father. They were also down here visiting J. P. Lacy and family. Rev. Hedden is a former citizen of this city, having lived here prior to his departure for Nebraska. He is pastor in charge of the M. E. church at Chambers.

—J. D. Chappel, who lives south of town, on one of the Gelvin places, called Monday and told us of the way some men honored their country on the glorious 4th of July. While the Chappel family was away celebrating, some miscreant called at the house and stole 20 old hens and 150 spring chickens. With the high wages of the present it appears that a man could make nearly as much in the hay field as he could stealing chickens; but that would not relieve his inborn cussedness. —Maitland Herald.

Funeral services were conducted on Monday, the 7th inst. from the family residence, by Elder Dry, the remains being laid to rest in the K. P. cemetery. His wife preceded him to the undiscovered country in 1897. He leaves two daughters, Blanche and Mabel, who have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the great loss that has come to them.

—Twenty teams crossed the river here on the Fourth, all going to the Oregon celebration. Several wagon loads of White Clouders helped swell the number materially. All report a first class celebration. The program was carried out as advertised from 10 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. The celebration was held on the public square and an immense throng of people helped. Oregon always does things up right and her people take pride in assisting with both time and money in everything for the benefit of the town. —White Cloud Globe.

—Postmaster Kelley is endeavoring to have the Forest City back time changed in order that White Cloud can get its mail several hours earlier, which would be a great benefit to the patrons of the rural delivery. The hack now leaves here at 11 in the morning and returns about 4 in the afternoon, but it will probably be changed soon, so as to leave White Cloud at 7 a. m. and return at 10 a. m., thus enabling the patrons of this office to get their mail two hours before noon.

The government reserves the right to change the time of the hack line whenever it sees fit to do so, and the change would be very acceptable. —White Cloud Globe. The change should be made by all means. Why all the important mail should be required to lay at Forest City for twelve hours has always seemed strange to us at this end of the line.

—A gentleman in a nearby town to look his little boy to church with him last Sunday for the first time. Instructing the lad about his behavior, he wound up by telling the boy to keep an eye on him and do just as he did. When the contribution box was passed papa dropped in a coin. Tommy saw his father's hand go into the box and, remembering the advice, put his hand in also. When the box was passed by, the lad whispered out loud enough to be heard all around: "Say, papa, I got a quarter, how much did you get?"
